

OAKLAND JOURNAL

————— University —————

---

NUMBER 23

FALL 2012

---

Rochester, MI 48309-4477

EDITOR

Natalie B. Cole

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

Christopher Clason, John Corso, Sherman Folland, David Garfinkle,
Laila Guessous, and Brian Murphy

ADVISORY BOARD

Brian A. Connery, Ronald Cramer, Brian Goslin, Frank J. Lepkowski,
Karen Markel, Karen Miller, Kevin Murphy, and Susan Wood

MANAGING EDITORS

Sherry Wynn Perdue, Director, Oakland University Writing Center
Pamela Mitzelfeld, Associate Director, Oakland University Writing Center

EDITORIAL ASSISTANT

Ashley Liening

---

Statement of Purpose: The Oakland Journal is meant to serve three purposes: 1) to provide an open forum for university people to get to know each other's work and creative energies; 2) to provide a marketplace of ideas that will work to the general benefit; and 3) to provide a beacon to students on the importance of writing and a place for them to achieve their first publication.

Advice to Authors: We prefer articles from Oakland University faculty, staff, students and alumni. Generally, articles should be 15 double-spaced pages or fewer. Email submissions if possible. Deadlines are July 1 for the fall issue and Nov.1 for the winter issue. We invite submissions concerning research, creative work, material that would be of interest to other OU people and our neighbors, and that which will enhance intellectual exchange and discussion for the benefit of Oakland University.

Editorial decisions are made in consultation with associate editors. Submissions should be sent in Microsoft Word format via U.S. mail to Managing Editors, Oakland Journal, Writing Center, 212 Kresge Library, Oakland University, Rochester, MI 48309 or by email to TOJ@oakland.edu. We prefer email submissions.

Getting a Copy: Copies are provided without charge upon request to all Oakland University faculty, staff and students. Others may purchase a copy for $3.50. Full time faculty and administrative level staff receive each issue automatically. Current or previous articles are downloadable at the journal's website archives, <http://www2.oakland.edu/oujournal/>.

Funding Support: The Oakland Journal is made possible by generous support from the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost.

Copyright 2012 Oakland University

CONTENTS

---

How Does a Gangster Regime End? The Uprising in Syria by Don Matthews	5
An Entanglement: Ancient Texts, Old Marginalia, and Contemporary Art by Andrea Eis	18
The Things We Buried Two Poems by Jenifer DeBellis	32 35
Everyone Goes to Hollywood by Pamela Mitzelfeld	38
Stem Cell Research—Promise and Potential by Christina McKee, Christopher Lucier, Sumi Dinda, PhD, Ferman Chavez, PhD, Anne Mitchell, RN, PhD, Charles Shanley, MD, Mick Preze-Cruet, MD, and G. Rasul Chaudhry, PhD	46
The Responsive University: A Cautionary Tale by Susan M. Awbrey	58
“Talk” Drawing Series Artist’s Statement and Images by Lynn Galbreath Fausone	73

“Slender firm strokes of the pen”: The Unspoken Words of Women Writers in Edith Wharton’s Fiction by Elizabeth Frazier	77
Steven Pinker Speaks at Oakland University by Paul Kubicek	86
Roaring Twenties, Troubled Times: Writers’ Impressions of Detroit by John Cohassey	91
My Bicycle Is Getting Taller by Brooke Biaz	101
Art Review: Clinton Snider at Suzanne Hillberry by John Corso	110
Medical Matters: Medical School in Year One: Case #1 by Lauren Mecca	114
Notes from the Dismal Science: A Beautiful Economics Story: A Review of Grand Pursuit by Sylvia Nasar by Sherman Folland	119
Contributors	129