Announcements

Congratulations to Justin Mogilski and Matt Moonier who received the Provost Research Award ($2,000).

November Publications

Davies, A.P.C., & Shackelford, T.K. (2017). Don’t you wish your partner was hot like me? The effectiveness of mate poaching across relationship types considering the relative mate values of the poacher and the partner of the poached. Personality and Individual Differences, 106, 32-35.

Encyclopedia Publications

Dr. Lisa Welling’s lab (Sarah Donaldson, Justin Mogilski, Simon Reeve, Sylis Nicolas, and Anna Wysocki) published over 20 entries in the Springer Encyclopedia of Evolutionary Psychological Science.

November Presentations

Graduate Student Whitney Dominick presenting her research at ISTSS

Presentations (continued)

Imura, S., & Taku, K. (2016). Posttraumatic growth as a result of the transition to high school: Relationships with the changes in resiliency and personality traits. Oral session presented at the Japan Society of Youth and Adolescent Psychology, Shiga, Japan.

Taku, K. (2016). Core belief disruption and posttraumatic growth following the Great East Japan earthquake. Symposium paper presented in R. G. Tedeschi (Chair), Core belief disruptions contributing to posttraumatic growth in Japan, Australia, and Puerto Rico, at ISTSS, Dallas, TX.