ISSUES IN INTEGRATIVE STUDIES
An Annual Publication of the Association for Integrative Studies
2012
Association for Integrative Studies

Founded in 1979, the Association for Integrative Studies is the professional association devoted to interdisciplinarity. Interdisciplinarity combines the insights of knowledge domains to produce a more comprehensive understanding of complex problems, issues, or questions ranging from comparison to fully realized integration. For its members and the higher education community in general, the Association:

- Promotes the interchange of ideas among scholars, teachers, administrators, and the public regarding interdisciplinary and integration;
- Advocates best-practice techniques for interdisciplinary teaching;
- Advocates best-practice techniques for interdisciplinary research;
- Advances the exploration of key terms and seeks out new theoretical models essential to interdisciplinarity and integration;
- Sustains the development of real-world applications of interdisciplinary integration and integration;
- Encourages high quality interdisciplinary curriculum development at the undergraduate and graduate levels;
- Sponsors the development of standards for interdisciplinary program accreditation;
- Offers best-practice methods for assessing interdisciplinary programs and coursework;
- Encourages the development of administrative structures, personnel policies, and financial models in higher education that support interdisciplinary teaching and research;
- Promotes the scholarship of interdisciplinary and integrative teaching and learning; and
- Supports the development of strategies for strengthening the role of interdisciplinary and integration within and beyond the Academy;
- Documents the importance of interdisciplinary and integrative studies for higher education and society in general.

Membership

Individuals and institutions who support these purposes are encouraged to join the Association. Annual dues for 2013 are $300, institutions; $100, libraries; $30, students; and $75, regular members earning less than $60,000, with voluntary income-based rates of $100 ($60,000-79,999), $125 ($80,000-99,999) and $150 ($100,000+). Issues in Integrative Studies

An Annual Publication of the Association for Integrative Studies

Issues in Integrative Studies seeks papers on the following topics:

1. Interdisciplinary theory and methodology.
2. The nature, means, and problems of integrative research, especially on human experience.
3. Models of interdisciplinary/integrative curricular designs both undergraduate and graduate, supplemented by evaluative empirical studies.
4. Analyses of the relationships among social contexts, institutional arrangements, and interdisciplinary programs of research and teaching.
5. Cross-campus surveys on the status of interdisciplinary.
6. Conceptual and empirical attempts at distinguishing between disciplinary and interdisciplinary teaching, curricular models, and research.
7. Special pedagogical approaches for enhancing interdisciplinary/integrative comprehension, perspectives, knowledge, and utilization.
8. Substantial and critical reviews of literature published elsewhere on any of the above.

The co-editors for the 2012 edition of Issues in Integrative Studies are William H. Newell, AIS Executive Director and Professor of Interdisciplinary Studies in the Western Program at Miami University, and Gretchen Schulz, Professor Emerita of English at Oxford College of Emory University. The editors for the 2013 edition of Issues in Interdisciplinary Studies will be Gretchen Schulz and Pauline Gagnon, Chair and Professor of the Department of Theatre, School of the Arts, University of West Georgia.

Prospective authors should e-mail their papers as attachments in Microsoft Word to Gretchen Schulz (gschulz@emory.edu). The manuscripts should be double-spaced, conform to current APA style, and include an abstract. Photographs, illustrations, and other graphics should be attached separately in a JPEG or TIFF format. To ensure anonymity during the refereeing process manuscripts should bear only the title as a means of identification. Contributors should send a cover letter giving title, author, affiliation, a brief biographical note to be included in the article, their full mailing address, phone number, and e-mail address.
