

BAKER UNIVERSITY

(Kansas)

Master of Liberal Arts (MLA)

Program Path:

IDS Type: Departmentally Restricted IDS

Program Type: Foundational IDS Program

Description: In today's ever-changing workplace environment, employers look for people who can solve problems, adapt to new situations, analyze information, interact with a wide variety of people, and communicate effectively both orally and in writing. Baker's Master of Liberal Arts (MLA) degree provides opportunities to enhance your skills in these areas and either take the next step in your current career or move to an entirely different career. The 36-hour program allows you to explore your personal and professional interests in a variety of intellectually stimulating content areas. You will emerge with a deeper understanding of the interrelatedness of various disciplines and an enhanced ability to critically evaluate and communicate. (From website.)
