

KEAN UNIVERSITY

(New Jersey)

Master of Arts in Liberal Studies

Program Path:

IDS Type: Departmentally Restricted IDS

Program Type: Foundational IDS Program

Description: The Master of Arts in Liberal Studies is designed for adults who seek interdisciplinary paths to knowledge, who wish to explore the values inherent in the liberal arts, who want to continue and deepen the life of the mind. For professionals in law, museum work, education, medicine, engineering, school administration, and business who wish to explore values inherent in the liberal arts and to continue and deepen the life of mind. Not intended to train students for a specialized vocation, the program has particular significance for students who wish to increase the range and depth of their knowledge in the liberal disciplines. (From website.)

Program Structure:

Admission Requirements: Application, Official Undergraduate Transcripts, Autobiographical Essay (minimum 500 words), (3) Letters of Recommendation

Credit Hours: 33 credits

Required Coursework: 9 credits, Three Core courses

Individually Selected Coursework: 24 credits, Eight Electives

Exit Courses & Work: Comprehensive Examination

Established Department(s) of Focus: Liberal Studies, American Studies, European Studies, Modern World, and Classical, Renaissance, & Baroque Studies

Program Statistics:

Faculty: No IDS specific faculty information available

Students: Resident students only. All classes are in the evening.

Program History: No information available

Contact Information:

Address: Nathan Weiss Graduate College, Liberal Studies Department, Kean University, 1000 Morris Ave., Union, NJ 07083

Phone Number: 908-737-0388

Email: mals@kean.edu