

Master of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies

Program Path:

IDS Type: Unrestricted IDS

Program Type: Floating IDS Program

Description: Western New Mexico University offers a Master's Degree in Interdisciplinary Studies. Students may choose from any department offering graduate level coursework. It is extremely important, however, that students meet with the appropriate advisors in each discipline prior to taking courses in order to plan their course of study and satisfy all program admission requirements. All course pre-requisites must be fulfilled. The Interdisciplinary Degree may or may NOT prepare the student for licensure or certification in the chosen field. (From 2007/2008 WNMU Catalog.)

Program Structure:

Admission Requirements: Application, Official Undergraduate Transcripts, GRE (conditional)

Credit Hours: Thesis—39 credits; Non-Thesis—36 credits

Required Coursework: None

Individually Selected Coursework: Thesis—36 credits of Electives; Non-Thesis—36 credits of Electives

Exit Courses & Work: Thesis—3 credits & Comprehensive examinations; Non-Thesis—Comprehensive examinations

Established Department(s) of Focus: Open

Program Statistics:

Faculty: No IDS specific faculty information available

Students: Resident students only

Program History: No information available

Contact Information:

Address: Western New Mexico University, Master's in Interdisciplinary Studies Program, PO Box 680, Silver City, NM 88062

Phone Number: 800-872-9668, Ext. 6000

Email: tresslerd@wnmu.edu

Website: <http://www.wnmu.edu/NewStudents/grad/GradAdmissions.shtml>, (click on “Catalog” link for most up-to-date information on the program itself)