

Ph.D in Biological and Biomedical Sciences

Annual Review

The Biological Sciences PhD Committee has made a policy that after a doctoral student advances to candidacy, they must meet with their dissertation annually to evaluate their progress. At each annual dissertation committee meeting, the student should present their accomplishments to date, and the dissertation committee should provide the doctoral candidate with an evaluation of their progress. The purpose of this form is to allow the Biological and Biomedical Sciences doctoral program to insure that these meetings are taking place and that students are making adequate progress toward their dissertations.

This form is to submitted by the doctoral candidate by June 1 of each year.
