Susan Pingel teaches in a public high school in the Finger Lakes area of Central New York.

She has:

- 25+ years experience in the AP United States History classroom and an almost equivalent amount as a consultant for the College Board
- served as a Reader and Table Leader for the APUSH examination, a Faculty Consultant for one-day workshops and AP Summer Institutes working with teachers in a variety of settings – from small rural schools to major urban, inner-city school districts
- an undergraduate degree from Syracuse University and a Masters from SUNY Cortland
- attended several summer programs, including NEH's Landmarks Workshops, NEH Institute, NEH Seminar, Eisenhower Academy, and STIs offered by Colonial Williamsburg, Gilder Lehrman, and the Annenberg Foundation
- developed curriculum, eg. Colonial Williamsburg Educational Division programs, including their electronic field trips
- received teaching awards
- authored review books
- served on the staff of summer programs

She is:

- prepared to facilitate your understanding and implementation of the skills, content, and concepts called for in the APUSH classroom
- ready to demonstrate and share a variety of time tested techniques and explore new ones
- looking forward to working with you to find your voice as an effective and efficient APUSH teacher
